

Student – Athletic Code of Conduct Policy

As a representative of SUNY – Ulster and the Intercollegiate Athletics Department, the following are basic expectations/ standards required for your participation. Failure to uphold these expectations and standards may jeopardize your participation.

Conduct yourself in a mature and reasonable manner on campus and off campus at all times. You will be expected to display respectful behavior towards all members of the college and extended community. This is to include faculty, staff, coaches, spectators, teammates, officials, and opposing team members.

Attend classes in accordance with the instructor's attendance policy, complete and submit assignments on time and achieve passing grades on all required tests, projects, and papers. Always be attentive in class and put forth the effort required to succeed. Realize that academics take priority over all athletic related activities.

Be truthful and honest in all your communications with faculty, coaches, and athletic staff. This includes information compiled on the NJCAA Eligibility Affidavit. Failure to truthfully report information on the NJCAA Eligibility Form, by rule, renders you ineligible for competition.

Be aware of the time requirements for practices, games, and travel plan accordingly. Submit early dismissal forms for away athletic events to your instructors in advance of game dates, additionally collect all necessary study material during your absence from class. Be proactive in managing your class schedule to avoid issues as it relates to course requirements.

Take advantage of the services and facilities available to you. Discuss your goals with your coach, and your academic advisor. Become familiar with the library, the learning center, the computer labs, and student services.

Avoid situations within the structure of on campus and off campus circumstances that could result in legal disciplinary proceedings.
