EXPLORING SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Finding out about and applying for scholarships can be a time consuming and complex activity. The goal is to identify funds that are considered gift aid as a resource for paying for college. Scholarships are not only for geniuses, so don't be discouraged from applying because your grades are not wonderful. Other criteria for scholarships include community service, leadership, hobbies, athletics, program of study and pure luck.

THE COMMON LINK

There is a common link among all scholarship winners – THEY APPLY!!! This may take a lot of work, and can be eased by tailoring one application so that it can be used over and over again for other scholarships. There is an art to applying for scholarships. Speak to past winners. You can learn from someone who has applied successfully.

SHOW ME THE MONEY!

An abundance of scholarship information is sent directly to high schools, and will be made available to those who request it. Also tap the resources of other schools, which may have different information.

Some approaches worth trying:

- * Check your school scholarship binder
- * Speak to parents and friends
- * Visit local libraries
- * Visit college scholarship offices
- * Check college catalogues for scholarship information
- * Use the internet

STUDENTS, START YOUR ENGINES!

Start your scholarship search as early as seventh or eighth grade. Students can enter contests (spelling bees, essay contests, athletic events, and general contests) that may offer a scholarship as the prize. Search for opportunities from lenders, newspapers, and other companies.

DEADLINES

Scholarship opportunities always have deadlines. You might want to set up a spreadsheet to clearly identify the deadline dates as well as the requirements for each scholarship. Some scholarships only require a completed application form. Others might require an essay or recommendations. If the scholarship is based on a certain criteria, be prepared to provide documentation.

BE PREPARED

Expect to do some writing and follow through on all requests:

*Write to the scholarship source requesting an application (or you may be able to apply online). If the application is to be mailed, it is a good idea to enclose a cover letter that includes a brief description of why you are applying, where the information to apply was found, and the importance of the scholarship.

*If you receive a "reject" letter, it is recommended that you write a thank you letter for the opportunity to apply. If you can apply again in a future year, include a request to be put on a mailing list.

*If you receive the scholarship, send a thank you letter immediately. Include a description of how the scholarship will positively impact your pursuit of a college education.

TEN TIPS FOR SUCCESS

1. Read the scholarship requirements and directions carefully. Your application will not be successful if you are not eligible for the scholarship.
2. Complete the application in full. If a question does not apply, note that on the application. Do not leave anything blank.
3. Follow directions. Provide everything that is required, but do not supply things that are not requested. You could be disqualified.
4. Neatness counts. Make several photocopies of the forms you receive. Use the copies as working drafts to develop your application. Type your application. If you must print, do so neatly.
5. Make sure that your essay makes a positive impression. The key to writing a strong essay is to be personal and specific. Include concrete details to make your experience come alive: who, what, where and when.
6. Pay attention to deadlines.
7. Give the application a final check. Proofread the entire application carefully. Be on the lookout for misspelled words or grammatical errors. Ask a friend, teacher or parent to proofread it as well.
8. Provide your name and social security number (if applicable) on each page of your application to ensure that nothing is misplaced. Before sending your application, make a copy of the entire packet for your records.
9. Ask for help if you need it. If you have problems with the application, call the funding organization and ask questions.
10. Your ability to submit a neat, timely, complete application reflects on you. It is your face to this organization. Take pride in yourself by submitting your best application.

SCHOLARSHIP SCAMS

According to the Federal Trade Commission, there are many fraudulent scholarship databases.

Be wary of:

- * Scholarship services that charge fees for their listings or claim to have “exclusive” information
- * Companies that guarantee a scholarship or your money back
- * Services that ask for a credit card number or say you are a “finalist” in a contest that you did not enter
